TO BUILD NEW IMPROVED HIGHWAY OUTLET FOR ELLWOOD

NEW BILLS SMALLER AND MORE ELUSIVE, IS WILL'S WARNING

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 9.—I just happened to hear of it in an indirect way, and it may be that lots of us won't get any actual proof of it for weeks, but the new shape of money is to go into circulation Wednesday.

Practically the same people that handled the old will have a charge of this new type.

It's one-third smaller and practically two-thirds more elusive.

France wants to insert in our debt settlement that they will pay us as soon as Germany pays them. That's to be in 62 years, so 63 years from now we start receiving our payments.

Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New observed to be over by the P. and E. and Pennsylvania railroad West Side Station last night, and was almost disappointed to discover that work of raising the station is not yet under way. We had hoped that some action looking towards erection of new stations would be started by this time. However, looking over the records for speed in the past, and considering that the P. & E. station has been in temporary use for the past 18 years it is probably too much to look for any speedy action in the matter. Pa New still has hope!

There was a little reminder of the past in a scene on Highland avenue this morning. A fruit vendor with a small wagon, drawn by one horse, was noted to get off the wagon and walk up the hill, to make the load lighter for the horse. This driver was considered at least of his horse on a warm day.

New Castle's great suburban districts, just adjoining the city, continue to develop rapidly. There is much building in evidence on the outskirts of the city. In a few years these populous sections will be a part of greater New Castle that will make this city one of the largest in area in the entire state, and will add materially to its accredited population as a city. These sections are already in fact a part of the city, but the census takers will be obliged to leave these populous districts out of official figures unless some annexations take place before next summer.

Work on giving one of the downtown buildings a thorough bath on the exterior is rapidly nearing completion. Pa New believes it would be a good idea for a few more owners to get the cleaning bug.

It was one of those roadside billboards with the glaring and ugly picture of a car portrayed. The sign is.

Weather Fine

(International News Service)
HORTA, Azores, July 9.—Perfect flying weather prevailing off the Azores at noon today.

Up to that time the Bellanca Monoplane Pathfinder, bound from Old Orchard, Me., to Rome, had not been sighted nor had any ships off the coast reported hearing airplane motors.

According to advices received here the fliers—Roger Q. Williams and Lewis Yancey—planned to follow the line of latitude 41 passing about 100 miles north of the Azores and bending their course from that point towards Cape Ortegal on the coast of Spain.

To Build Road Ellwood City To Portersville

Seven Mile Stretch To Be Constructed During Coming Year

PLAN AGREED ON AT CONFERENCE

State And County To Make Big County Improvement

In addition to the comprehensive road program announced for Lawrence County some time ago, an additional three miles of concrete has been secured, this piece to be State Aid road, the state and the county paying half each.

At a conference between the State Engineer T. C. Frame and the Lawrence county commissioners, it was decided to finish the Ellwood-Portersville Road up to the Butler county line and this latest three miles will be placed there.

A few days ago it was announced by the State Highway Department that $5,000,000.00 had been set aside for State Aid projects, in which the state and counties would split the cost fifty-fifty. Alive to the advantage to be gained by getting in early, the Lawrence County commissioners, Thomas J. McCullough, P. O. Elder and C. C. Boyd immediately got in touch with the highway department and said that this county was ready and willing to match the state allocation for Lawrence County, which is $48,147.75.

Will Finish Route 350
With the road program in the other sections of the county in good shape, the commissioners felt that the work (Continued On Page Five)

Double Crime At Coraopolis

Family Quarrel Results In Double Shooting In Rody Home

HUSBAND DEAD;
WIFE MAY DIE

(International News Service)
CORAOPOLIS, Pa., July 9.—An argument which reached a climax after twenty years was blamed by police today for the probable fatal shooting of Mrs. Margaret Rody, 42, by her husband John Rody, 50, who died shortly after turning the gun on himself.

Mrs. Rody was in a critical condition today at Sewickley Hospital, where Rody died late yesterday. Members of the family told investigating police the argument between the husband and wife had been going on for years. They were unable to say what the original cause has been.

Rody started yesterday afternoon for his job, the children said. His wife followed him to give him his lunch, when he turned and announced he had changed his mind—was not going to work. The two returned to the house and went upstairs. Katherine, 19-year-old daughter, and Mrs. John Rody, Jr., daughter-in-law, heard the couple quarrelling upstairs, they said. A few moments later they were astonished by three shots. As they stood, terror-stricken, Mrs. Rody crawled down the steps, gasping for her wounds, and collapsed at the kitchen door. The two women said.

Chief of police Samuel J. Riddle, of Coraopolis, took the wounded couple to Sewickley Hospital, where he was called.

Eight children of the Rodys lived in the home, although only the daughter and daughter-in-law were present when shooting occurred. The children told police they were mystified by their father's possession of a gun, since they had never known him to carry firearms.

LONDON, July 9.—Twenty-one officers and seamen are missing and are believed to be dead as the result of a collision of the British submarines H 27 and L 12 off St. David's Head in St. George's Channel today when the H 47 was sunk.

The greatest loss of life was sustained by the H 47 which was one of the smallest and slowest submersibles in the British Navy. The L 12 was a 1,000-ton craft.

Details were given in the following brief admiralty statement: "The submarine H 47 sank after a collision. The accident occurred this (Continued On Page Sixteen)

Over $600,000 Worth Seized In Baggage Of Wife Of Chinese Vice Consul

San Francisco Port Authorities Await Orders From Washington In Case

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Smuggled opium valued at more than $600,000 was held under guard in the appraisers' building today while customs agents who seized the drugs in the baggage of Mrs. Ying Kuo, youthful wife of the Chinese vice-consul in San Francisco, pursued their investigation of what they described as the most brazen plot ever uncovered to smuggle illicit narcotics into the United States.

The baggage was seized when Mrs. Ying arrived from China aboard the Steamer Tenyo Maru. Eleven pieces of baggage, it developed, were lined with a fortune in contraband opium. There were approximately 3,000 tins, each containing five tads of Portuguese opium.

Oil Tank Fire Is Extinguished

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Fire, following lightning which hit a 21,000 barrel storage tank of the National Transit Company, near North Park, had been subdued today, with loss estimated at $75,000.

A special chemical crew, called from Oil City, Pa., finally triumphed over the blaze early today, after fighting it since Sunday night. The burning tank boiled over for the tenth time last night, throwing the fiery liquid into little pink creek. The oil floated down the stream and ignited a bridge half a mile away. Thousands of residents of nearby section visited the fire yesterday afternoon and evening.

Suffering From Mental Trouble; Ends Own Life

Mrs. Vesta Pearl Watwood, Aged 35, Ends Life On Little Beaver Farm

IN POOR HEALTH
FOR SOME TIME

Finds Hidden Parts Of Rifle
And Puts Weapon
Together

While suffering from brain trouble, Mrs. Vesta Pearl Watwood, aged 35, wife of Albert Watwood, a farmer of Big Beaver township, shot herself in the right temple with a .22 calibre rifle, Monday afternoon. She was found in the cellar of her home about 3 p. m. unconscious, but still alive. A Wampum doctor was summoned, and did all he could for her but she passed away about 5 o'clock last night.

According to information secured in an investigation by Coroner J. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Watwood has been in poor health for a year or more, suffering from nervousness and mental trouble. Last winter she was taken to St. Francis hospital in Pittsburgh for treatment. She improved so much that she was brought home early this spring, and has since been able to attend to her household duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Watwood live in a farm house on the J. C. F. Jackson farm where Mr. Watwood is employed. The house is close to the Jackson residence. Yesterday Mrs. Watwood had a washing to do and used Mrs. Jackson's machine. Mrs. Jackson helping her some. Mrs. Watwood appeared tired after her exertion. She prepared dinner for her husband but did not eat any herself. Mr. Watwood did not notice anything particular the matter, except that she seemed tired. After dinner he went back to the fields to work.

About 3 o'clock a little son of Mrs. Watwood came over to Jackson's to see if his mother was there. She was not. Mrs. Watwood was summoned and found his wife in the cellar with a .22 rifle by her side. He carried her to a bed and summoned a physician.

Knowing his wife's mental condition Mr. Watwood had taken the rifle apart and had hidden it. He had hidden shells so well that he could not find them himself when he wanted them a few days ago. Indications were that Mrs. Watwood had found the rifle, put it together and also found the shells.

Police On Guard In Dairy Strike At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 9.—Police guards today were preparing to go on duty again at the Liberty Dairy Products Corporation, where a strike of drivers has been in progress, following an attack by a gang of men on John Siegel, driver, today. The mob burned Siegel's wagon after beating him into unconsciousness.

The guard of deputies, sheriffs was withdrawn a week ago when violence apparently had subsided.

Wives Of Fliers Anxious For News

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 9.—With the fortitude that characterizes the wives of history-making aviators, Mrs. Roger Q. Williams and Mrs. Lewis A. Yancey, wives of the two aviators who are flying from the United States to Rome today, calmly waited for news of the progress of the Bellanca monoplane Pathfinder now roaring across the Atlantic.

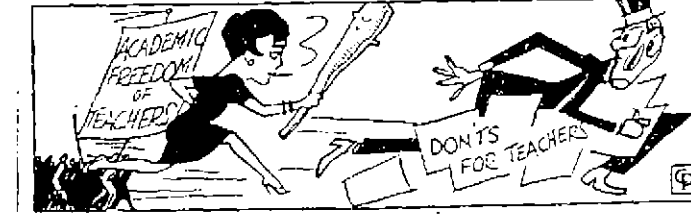

Mrs. Williams, at her home in Richmond Hill, tuned in the radio and nonchalantly engaged in a game of bridge with neighbors who visited her. "Excited?" she asked in response to a question. "Why be excited? I have known for a long time he planned to make this flight and I am thor-

When she appears in the classroom of schools in several Michigan communities garbed in knee-length dress.

The Reason
A teacher isn't a teacher any longer under those conditions, because she's fired.

Three Young Girls Drown At Sharon

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., July 9.—Bodies of two young sisters and their girl playmate had been recovered from the swollen waters of Yankee run, a small creek in Brookfield township, near here today. Dorothy Hall, 13, and her sister Ruth, 8, and Marie Zebec, 6, all of Brookfield township, were drowned. A fourth girl was saved.

Evidently not realizing that the water where they had been used to wading was much deeper due to recent heavy rains, the girls were caught in the swift underflow and could not swim well enough to reach safety, companions said.

The Hall girls had been playing on a log and were rolled into the water when they became excited as they heard the other girl, who had waded into the stream, cry for help.

Frank Emmerling, who had been watching the girls, plunged into the stream and succeeded in rescuing Anna Zebec, 15, sister of one of the girls drowned.

After nearly an hour firemen managed to recover the bodies of Dorothy Hall and Marie Zebec, but it was more than four hours later the body of Ruth Hall was taken out.

The Hall girls were daughters of Mrs. William Emmerling. The other child was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatz Zebec.

California Aviators May Exceed Record In Cleveland, O.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
CULVER CITY, Cal., July 9.—With victory in sight, Loren W. Mendell and R. B. "Pete" Reinhardt, dauntless flying pair, courageously battled today to achieve their goal of a new world's refueling endurance record.

The motor of their Buhl plane Azgleno functioning without a miss, the two aviators continued to soar over the airport here after passing the 166th hour of sustained flight at 5:30 a. m.

Only nine hours and 59 seconds separated the aerial partners from their objective. If they are still in the air at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon they will have set a new mark, surpassing by one hour the recent record-establishing performance of two Cleveland aviators.

Pathfinder May Be Enroute To New Air Record

Lack Of News Also Indicates Fliers May Have Met Disaster

NEAR AZORES SOON

Fliers Planned To Travel At High Altitude So May Not Be Sighted

(International News Service)
HORTA, Azores, July 9.—

All the radio agencies of the Azores reached out into the Atlantic this afternoon for trace of the trans-ocean monoplane Pathfinder, which hopped off at Old Orchard, Maine yesterday morning for a non-stop flight to Rome.

This cross roads of the Atlantic, which has been stirred so many times of late by ocean flights of daring aviators, kept watch and ward with tireless vigil over the highways of the sky for any trace of the east-bound aerial argonauts.

Wireless stations bombarded the air with radio queries to all ships far and near, requesting information about the progress of the latest overseas flight. But, up to late hour this afternoon, no word had come from any ship that the Pathfinder had been sighted or its motor heard.

At 3 p. m. Azores time, noon New York daylight saving time, the Pathfinder had been on the way near 28 hours—if the plane had not met with unknown disaster at sea.

No Word Early Today.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Hurling toward their goal at distance-besetting speed, Roger Q. Williams and Captain Lewis Yancey today were believed well on their way to Rome, bound on the longest non-stop flight ever attempted.

At seven o'clock this morning, New York daylight saving time, if no accident had occurred, the fliers were well past the halfway ocean mark, and rapidly clearing the last expanse of ocean that separated them from land.

If all went well the aviators should now be at least 2,500 miles from Old Orchard, Maine, where they hopped off at 8:48 a. m. yesterday.

Thus the Pathfinder, the fliers' huge Bellanca monoplane, may have proved able to outstrip the speed that had been expected for it, and may accomplish a record trans-Atlantic crossing.

Although vessels all along the plane's route had been instructed to report immediately if the Pathfinder were sighted, no word was received last night to state that the great key plane had been seen winging through the clouds. There was no apprehension on this account, however, as Williams and Yancey planned to fly at an altitude of 6,000 feet, far above the clouds.

Flying Very High.

Woman Injured When Knocked To Street

Several Minor Accidents Reported To The Police

Mrs. Robert Woodhouse, of 529 West Long avenue, reported to the police Monday that she was driving east on Washington street and making a right hand turn onto South Mill street, as Elizabeth Vert, of 331 Laurel boulevard was in the act of crossing Mill street.

The driver of the automobile parked on Washington street, in the street, Mrs. Woodhouse assisted in picking her up and took her to the office of a physician, where it was found that her injury consisted of a bruise on her hip.

James Campbell, of 228 North Main avenue, reported Monday that he was going west on Washington street at Beaver street, when an Overland coupe did not make the required stop in crossing out of Beaver street and the machine came together. Some damage was done.

W. V. Morris of 1341 West Long avenue, reported Monday that he was going west on West Falls street, when a boy named Bailey, aged 10 years, and residing at 248 West Falls street, jumped off a wagon and ran into the street in front of his machine, hitting the tender of his machine. He took the boy home. He was apparently not seriously injured.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

located on a field near the city and evidently some rag dealer's rag gets its sustenance from this same field. This morning, the horse, a tattered old fellow, was leaning up against the sign board, and it so happened that he was situated right beside the car. It was a curious but pathetic picture.

New Castle's next convention comes here in just two weeks. It's the position of the office and the estimated attendance is 250 persons.

At a distance some of those sirens on the telegraph boy's bicycles lead one to believe that it is the big Pittsburgh coming down street.

A look over the county shows crops to be growing rapidly. Corn is especially good for the late planting which occurred and wheat and oats are high. Wheat will be long until wheat cutting time.

New Castle is quite well represented at the various camps during this summer. A group of men have just left for Carlisle's barracks and others are situated at various other camps for several weeks training.

In New York City a big blaze destroyed $40,000 worth of horses. Evidently the thought that the horse has completely gone is a false one. County man tells Pa Newc that as long as farms are small, the motor driven farm vehicle is not as practical and economical as old Dobbin.

Camps boom these days. Pa Newc conversed today with a local resident who intends to go camping tonight. While he has not been at camp this summer yet, he is experienced at the business and says that this is the ideal camping weather, there is no doubt it would be a relief from today's humidity.

And that matter of the covered bridges again. Once it was suggested that one in our own county be preserved for the generations to come, and now since more time-worn and dilapidated spans are being replaced by new bridges, it seems that such should be done at once. Perhaps the county commissioners could take some action toward this worthy end. But a few "dark bridges" remain here.

The North street bridge has taken on a near completed appearance already. The steel beams and supports must be covered with concrete first before the structure is finally completed. If this weather stays the concrete should be laid quickly.

Western Pennsylvania district, including New Castle, is marked on the business map of the nation at the present time as one of the two or three leading sections of the nation where business is excellent at the present time.

Several handsome young New Castle girls attracted considerable attention yesterday afternoon as they paraded down Washington street, clad in overalls.

Pa Newc observed a big yellow balloon floating through the atmosphere above New Castle, about 6:45 last evening. It had a message tied to it.

Although the temperature yesterday was officially recorded as 85 at the maximum point, it seemed much warmer, due no doubt, to the great amount of moisture in the air.

Next to the local ice plant or the interior of one of the big ice boxes at local meat markets the New Castle Cathedral is perhaps the coolest spot in town. One is greeted by a cool blast of air the minute he steps through the door. The change is agreeably noticeable after waking up in Highland avenue hill in the hot sun.

Many pleasant reunions will be held at Cascade park tomorrow when veterans of the World War get together to renew old acquaintances and reminiscence on incidents which occurred "over there".

Pa Newc noticed the remnants of some local "Huckleberry Finn's" raft resting atop the Rosena Dam. It was washed down during the high water from its place of anchorage up the stream.

This month's issue of American Forests and Forest Life, contains a lengthy article by Dr. George Misch Sutton concerning the wild life to be found in Crawford county's Pymatuning swamp. The article is entitled, "Pymatuning-Penn's Wilderness." Dr. Sutton says "It is so wild and difficult to traverse that but a few have tried to cross it. In its densest thickets the drama of life has gone on for decades uninterrupted by any developing civilization save for the occasional whistles of a train." Dr. Sutton describes the wild life of the huge swamp and his articles is illustrated with seven photos which he snapped while exploring the swamp.

This far the camping season has been nearly a flop. Too much rain, cold weather and then hot weather while the water is still cold. This season's campers should bide their peace.

You remember the flood about this time last year which swept the coasts and everything away out along the various creeks.

Pa Newc observed a taxicab pull to the wrong side of North Mill street, south of Sycamore way, and operate to the curb against heavy traffic a few evenings ago. Careful taxicab operators would not condone such a move and it is regretful that a policeman did not notice the violation of not only a traffic rule but a safety idea.

Fifty Midgits of the Y today departed for the Y camp, situated along the Slippery Rock. After the Midgits have had two weeks outing the Juniors will journey to the camp. Henry McNicholas, popular Y worker is in charge of the boys at the camp and the parents can rest assured that every boy will be in safe keeping at the camp.

After several weeks the Jolly bowl will open again next Monday night and as the boxing enthusiasts are hungry for boxing, a large crowd will be present. Whenever boxing bouts are held here, especially in the summer, large crowds of out-of-town fans visit the city and incidentally business shows an increase.

It may be due to oversight but the fact remains that North Beaver Street between West Washington and North Streets is nothing but a lane of jagged holes. Should an automobile spring be broken there would be no occasion for the city to claim lack of liability. The holes are there and the Councilmen should know it.

Slippery Rock creek, immediately outside Slippery Rock is taking on the color of a coming big pleasure resort. Cottages are being erected. There are several bathing beaches. Dance pavilions operate several nights a week.

Outside capital, it is said, is helping to dot the spots along the creek with nice cottages.

It has come to the attention of Pa Newc that there was a motorist, who came along in a new car Sunday afternoon after the terrible accident on the New Castle-Elwood City road in which two were killed and refused the use of his car to the injured persons. There may come a time when they might want assistance. What if someone refused them the use of a car?

port, said no action will be taken pending instructions from Washington and until further investigation has been made. The inquiry, officials admitted, will lead toward the San Francisco Chinese consulate and will extend across the Pacific to Honolulu and China. Efforts to determine whether any member of the consular staff had knowledge of the smuggling attempt are under way, it was learned.

Mrs. Ying protested that the trucks and bags containing the opium belonged to "dear and influential friends in China."

When asked by customs officers to tell the names of the "friends" who asked her to transport the "gifts" to the United States and also the identity of those to whom the "gifts" were consigned in this country, Mrs. Ying said:

"I can't tell you that. It would simply mean that they would kill me next time I went to China, if they even let me get that far before killing me."

PLEAD FOR FREEDOM FOR TEACHERS

you care to mention in these free and enlightened states called America. But it won't be for long.

Bedtime stories for teachers are out, according to an ultimatum announced recently by the American Federation of Teachers' convention here. And to tobacco, dancing, smoking, attendance at the movies, late hours and, yes, an occasional cocktail, are in "no way."

"The time has come for teachers to put thumbs down on the absurd restrictions that are placed on school teachers in the backward communities of the nation," according to Mrs. Florence C. Hanson, of Chicago, secretary of the federation.

It was one of the purposes of the recent convention to find ways and means of bringing these old-fashioned communities up to date. Why, only recently in West Virginia, a candidate for the school board sought the place on the platform that he would vote for the dismissal of any teacher who did not buckle her gaiters and wear her skirts to within at least eight inches of the ground.

Many Can't Marry

"Believe it or not there are some towns where teachers aren't even allowed to be married. Attendance at movie theaters is taboo for school ma'ams in dozens of villages and towns scattered over the country. V-necked dresses are not permitted in other schools, and even silk stockings are frowned upon by some school boards, while a teacher who is known to smoke stands about as much chance of holding her job as a first grade pupil holding down the president's desk in the local bank."

The teachers are armed for the conflict and they're going to fight until the last blue nose is won over, and until the final bell peals a pean of victory for teachers' habits of dress and personal taste, Miss Hanson indicated.

"We fight for the principal of academic freedom for teachers," declared Miss Amy Fox, of Minneapolis, Minn., chairman of the teachers' tenure committee, who introduced the anti-blue law for school ma'ams' liberty. "This includes personal liberty."

"Our federation now has 209 locals throughout the country. Our motto is the schools for democracy and democracy in the schools."

"We are asking for only a little more privacy and personal liberty than the gold fish gets."

The federation is credited with being instrumental in raising teachers' salaries, lifting them from the class of pin money in many sections to important pay checks, as in New York and Chicago, where the minimum for classroom teachers is $2,000 and $3,500 a year, respectively.

After Personal Liberty

And the federation is on record to go after the personal liberty matter in even a more determined way.

The class in educational costumes and customs will now turn to page 509 in their dictionaries, where it says:

Doc-a-gog-ue, N. 1. An instructor of young people; a schoolmaster; commonly a pedantic, narrow-minded teacher. 2. class, antia. A slave who attended children to school."

And tear it out of the book.

High Water Checks Removal Of Timber

Must Remove Part Of Timber To Expedite Auto Building Work

Owing to high water, Contractor John Powell in charge of excavation at the Lawrence Automobile company building has not yet removed any of the timbers along the Nesquehanna river—and when he does it may be the forerunner of the removal of the Rosena dam.

According to Municipal Engineer Frank Miller Contractor Powell was granted the city's permission to remove some timbers.

Engineer Miller today said that he might put a "shot" of dynamite in, thus making an opening which would be preliminary to the removal of the dam.

The contractor will remove some of the timber to expedite the work on the new building.

Aviation Fans See New Record Near

(International News Service)

CULVER CITY, Cal., July 9.—A crowd of aviation fans began gathering at the airport here early today to watch the Buell airplane, a biplane, circling over head as it rapidly neared the new world's record for sustained flight.

At 7:30 a. m. the trim little cabin ship, piloted by Loren W. Mendon and R. B. "Petey" Reinhardt of Salem, Ore., had been aloft 108 consecutive hours and had seven hours and 59 seconds to go in order to establish a new official endurance mark.

thing to do was complete Route 550, running from Ellwood City to Portersville. At the present time the highway department's surveys are on this road, surveying the three and a fraction miles which will be laid entirely at the state expense. With this piece of road completed, there would yet be about three miles or so to the Butler County line and the Commissioners decided to finish the route. Butler county has indicated in the past that it would add the mile in that county, to complete the hook up with the concrete road at Portersville.

It was first thought that the state's three mile stretch on the road would be completed this summer. At the conference between the commissioners and Mr. Frame it was decided to hold this until next summer, and do the work all at one time, thus doing away with the necessity of closing the road more than once. This will also make it possible to get a better bid as the state can then ask for a price on about seven miles at once, instead of two three mile stretches in Lawrence County and one mile in Butler County in separate units.

WHEN EXPERIMENTS IN PHYSICS WERE UNKNOWN

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

Fathers cannot always make of their sons what they would like. Galileo's father tried to make a merchant of him but did not succeed, for he was interested in pure science. Galileo's vigorous thinking led him to question Aristotle's statement about heavier weights falling more rapidly than lighter ones. Early in his professorship at the University of Pisa, he performed the experiment before a curious assembly. He used a hundred pound cannon ball and a half-pound weight, dropping them from the tower of Pisa together. Both struck the ground together, to the astonishment of the spectators. No one before had thought to try it.

THE NEW CURRENCY
MUCH has been made over the new currency which in a few days now will be put into general circulation. A process of printing new currency to entirely replace that which is now in circulation has been a gigantic task. It is true, and has been worked on for two years in the great money manufacturing plant at Washington. In just a few days now, we will be able to go to our bank turn in our old, worn, ragged, crumpled up and dirty bills (if any) and receive the new paper currency. There are five outstanding advantages which are expected to result from the use of the new paper money.

THE NEW CURRENCY

1. The smaller size of the new note makes it more convenient to handle.
2. The new notes are printed on crisper and stronger paper; hence they are expected to last much longer.
3. The different denominations can be readily identified because the portraits on each note indicate the denomination.
4. The Secret Service believes that the new currency will make the task of counterfeiters much more difficult.
5. It is estimated that the small size and the standardized designs will save the government at least $1,500,000 a year in production costs.

There is one advantage which we do not find in the list and which we would like to be able to add, namely, that the new currency would have a greater purchasing power than the old. However, we fear that such an advantage will never be listed on the reports of our treasury department. Hence, as that would be the most important advantage of which we can conceive and as it is not reasonable to expect it to come to pass, all the ado about the new currency is almost much ado about nothing.

MOVING FAST ON BICYCLES

GROVER WHALEN, New York's highly advertised police commissioner, not long ago got a good deal of fun out of the fact that the London police still use bicycles in making their daily rounds. He seemed to feel that this compared rather poorly with the snappy, fast-moving motorcycles of the American cop. However, the London officers seem to travel faster on bicycles than our American police can go on their motorcycles. At any rate—

During 1928 there were just 18 murders in London. The police solved every one. Eleven of the murders were arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced, and the other seven committed suicide.

Compare those figures—not with New York's, for the contrast would be too staggering; with some lesser city, like Kansas City, for instance. Kansas City, in 1928, had 105 murders. Twenty-three murders were tried, convicted and sentenced; five were acquitted; and the rest seem to have escaped molestation altogether.

Any American police official who laughs at the London force is showing extremely poor judgment.

ENGLAND'S LABOR PROBLEM

ONE of the plans of the Baldwin ministry for reducing unemployment in Great Britain was the encouragement of emigration within the empire. Canada was regarded as an especially promising field for this transference of workers who could find nothing to do at home. British steamship companies co-operated by offering greatly reduced fares to permanent settlers. Even this inducement failed of the desired effect. In the first place, there was opposition on the part of the Canadian labor unions to this form of competition. In the second place, what Canada most needs are tillers of the soil, and the majority of the British emigrants were skilled only in industry.

Nevertheless, the plan has been taken over by the MacDonald ministry and Mr. Thomas proposes to do what he can to develop it. He thinks of going himself to Canada to look over the ground. Perhaps he may be able to smooth away some of the difficulties. If the British unemployed can find congenial work in any of the Dominions they will not be lost to other countries. The quota system limits the number of immigrants to the United States, and comparatively few of them care to go to countries where their language is not spoken, if they care to go anywhere. Apparently emigration will be but one, and not the most important, factor in solving the unemployment problem.

A stable government is one in which the people will remain hitched.

The hope chest is with us yet, but it contains fewer embroidered dish towels.

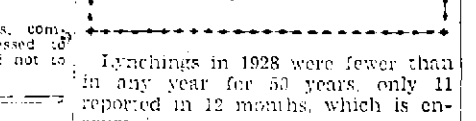

Any country would look prosperous if all the people were permitted to charge it.

Do not condemn the silent man. The only stomach worth having is one that never lets you know it is on the premises.

The old-time pugilist probably knew as many words as our present crude examples. But they were three, four and five-letter words.

The department of agriculture is conducting tests to learn how tough a piece of beefsteak may be. We supposed there was only one degree—the toughest.

Clerks Will Visit State Game Farm

Trip To Harlansburg Site Will Be Feature Of Convention

EXPECT ATTENDANCE OF 250 DELEGATES

Delegates to the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Post Office Clerks which meets here July 21 and 22 will in all probability visit the Jordan game farm at Harlansburg while they are the guests of the city, if plans now being completed are followed.

Extensive arrangements are being made at the present time by the New Castle branch of the federation for the entertainment of the visitors. Arrangements for the trip through the city and district may also be planned. The opening session of the convention will occur on the afternoon of Sunday, July 21. A short business meeting and program at The Castleton will feature the afternoon and evening. The general business meeting will occur Monday morning.

Thomas Donegan, member of the local organization and one of the leaders for the coming convention, states that applications for hotel accommodations have been received from nearly 100 clerks throughout the state. It is expected that 250 will be in attendance.

Eric has applied for 17 registration blanks already. Mr. Donegan states: "This is the largest delegation known to be registered from one single city. Pittsburgh will also send a large delegation and word from that branch is that a special bus will be chartered for the trip."

Two prominent congressional leaders, the Hon. J. Howard Swack of Beaver Falls, representative of the local district, and the Hon. Clyde Kelly of Braddock, who represents the Pittsburgh district in congress, will speak. Members of the local bar, city officials and leaders of the state organization of clerks have also been invited to participate.

Davis Takes Up Governor Post In Philippines

(International News Service) MANILA, July 9.—Dwight F. Davis, on Monday assumed his duties as Governor General of the Philippine Islands. In his inaugural address, he pledged the fullest cooperation between his administration and the Filipino citizens.

After a stormy passage through the China Sea, Davis and his daughter arrived here in a driving rain storm which precluded the gala reception which was being planned for the new Governor General. The outdoor ceremonies at Luneta were abandoned and Davis delivered his inaugural address at the executive offices.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

ON THEIR WAY TO NOWHERE.

The energetic Mrs. Spider hustled off to show her lazy if better-natured husband exactly where and how she wished him to build their house. Peter was left alone in the web and not feeling very comfortable either in his cramped position. Not being used to sitting in webs he had gotten a crick in his back. But he was curious to see the house Mr. and Mrs. Spider had talked so much about, so he decided to stay where he was for a little while longer and watch them.

"What a good thing I am up here out of the way," said Peter to himself. "If I was down on the ground like all over me! Ha, ha! Arrrrr, they funny?"

No wonder Peter laughed out loud! With all the room one would imagine they needed to keep out of each other's way Mr. and Mrs. Spider were having a terrible time of it. Of course Mrs. Spider took the lead and peering first under this leaf and then under that, twisted and turned so satly that she kept bumping into her pet spider. "What a nuisance who did his best to keep up with her and followed too close on her trail."

"My dear," buzzed Sam Spider at last when he could stand her antics no longer. "My dear I do wish you would tell me where you are going or when you are coming back. You have stepped on my front claw three times already and it aches so I have to hold it up and crawl on my other seven. It seems to me we are wasting time running in circles and getting no where."

"Nothing of the sort, Sam Spider!" answered Mrs. Spider crossly. "If you hadn't been so lazy you would have had the location for our house all picked out and I wouldn't have had to wear myself to saucers trying to find one. Where is a good spot, that's what I'd like to know!" Sam Spider sighed.

"You're passed several," buzzed he wearily. "Oh pshaw, let's decide on something and begin. Come now, wife make up your mind can't you?"

"When I get good and ready!" snapped Mrs. Spider. "Don't you try to hurry nor worry me Sam, or I'll bite you!"

Overhearing their squabbles and watching their antics Peter forgetting where he was leaped too far over and laughed too hard and almost tumbled out of the web.

"It is a mistake to use any other soap!"

says ECHTEN of Budapest

Beauty specialist to the leading actresses and opera singers of The Royal Opera House

WHENEVER I give a treatment in my salon," says Francis Echten, of Budapest, "I add the advice to cleanse the skin twice daily with Palmolive Soap!"

The advice is particularly interesting because both Echten and his son are distinguished in coiffure and complexion care. Francis Echten holds a diploma as Professor of Beautifying, Hungary; Akademie de Damenfriseur Kunst, Vienna; Etablissements Chabrier, Paris. He has won three awards in competitions, two medals of gold and one of silver.

All European experts agree

Throughout Middle Europe and the Continent, beauty specialists are unanimous in their recommendation of Palmolive Soap.

And in America more than 15,000 experts tell their patrons to follow the same advice: massage a bland, creamy lather of Palmolive Soap into the pores for two minutes. Rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Occasionally, an ice facial is refreshing. Now—and not before—apply your make-up.

Try that simple treatment this evening. Use Palmolive for your bath too. Then wonder why you ever used any other, since this costs no more than ordinary soap.

Most tremendous endorsement any product ever had! Just think! 15,750 beauty experts, in America alone, advise the regular use of Palmolive Soap.

Hear Witnesses In Vare-Wilson Election Probe

Election Investigation Is Being Conducted At Pittsburgh

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Two witnesses appeared in rapid succession at the Vare-Wilson Senatorial election investigation, being conducted by Senator C. W. Waterman, Democrat, Colorado, here today. Neither added much to the story of alleged ballot-box stuffing in the second district.
Second ward of Homestead as related yesterday by Mrs. Susan Uhrin, an election inspector in 1926.

Mrs. Marie Etherington and John Forsyth, members of the Second ward election board during the 1926 election, were the two witnesses who took the stand this morning. Mrs.
Etherington, who with Mrs. Uhrin checked the voters list, denied knowing of any irregularities.

When asked by Senator Waterman why she did not notice something of the alleged stuffing of the boxes, as testified by Mrs. Uhrin, from the conversation of the other board members at the time, Mrs. Etherington replied: "They were talking nightly in Slavish."

Mrs. Etherington further said that she did not see Joseph Franks and James "Bull" Conley, Homestead politicians, put 25 marked ballots in the box as charged by Mrs. Uhrin in her testimony late yesterday.

Recently Mrs. Etherington with Mrs. Uhrin was involved in the trial growing out of charges of election irregularities in Homestead. At that time she was quoted as having informed Judge James H. Gray of the methods used in her district. Today she vehemently denied that she had made any such statement to Judge Gray regarding unusual practices in her district during the senatorial election in 1926.

"I certainly did not tell Judge Gray anything was wrong," Mrs. Etherington declared in reply to questions regarding her alleged testimony during the trial before Judge Gray.

Forsyth, who was election judge in the second district, second ward of Homestead, admitted other board members told him about the ballots being marked. "I was mad about it," Forsyth has been serving a three-months' sentence in the workhouse, following the trial of the Homestead election cases before Judge Gray. He also admitted that Mrs. Uhrin, his sister, and Michael Gretz, another election official, had told him of the alleged irregularities committed by Franks and Conley.

Ore Movement Is Now At Peak

Record Shipments Being Made To Furnaces In This District

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 9.—Record shipments of iron ore are being made from lower lake ports to blast furnaces at Warren, Youngstown, Parrel, New Castle, Pittsburgh, Canton, Massillon, Mingo Junction and other points. Railroad traffic in ore and coal is especially heavy at this time, which represents the height of the season for both commodities.
In the spring, iron ore stocks in blast furnace yards were depleted to a larger extent than usual because of the heavy drains made upon them during the winter. Operators, accordingly, have been obliged to rebuild their stocks, not only because of current operations, but to keep stocks supplied for next winter.

Ore is shipped from the upper lake ports from about May 15 to the end of November, but shipments from lower lake ports to the furnaces continue through the winter.
Incidentals are that steel companies will maintain through July a somewhat higher operating rate than earlier anticipated.

Big Mergers Are Under Scrutiny

Modification Of Policy Of Department Of Justice Is Likely

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 9.—A less benevolent attitude in furnishing advice to corporations considering large mergers as to legality of their prospective combinations may be adopted by the Department of Justice, as a result of conferences between Attorney General Mitchell and John Lord O'-

Brian, assistant to the attorney general, it was learned today.

In this connection it was stated that the department is investigating carefully into all big combinations of business, at present having more than sixty inquiries under way. While formerly the department did not usually make investigations until complaints were filed, all mergers coming to the attention of the anti-trust division are now put under scrutiny.

A possible modification of the policy adopted by Attorney General Sargent and his first assistant, Col. William J. Donovan has been seriously considered. Under that system officials of the merging corporations were permitted to lay their cards on the table at the department. They were given informal information of any possible violations, or informed that there appeared to be nothing contrary to the Sherman or Clayton laws. This attitude was based upon an interpretation that these laws were preventative measures as well as punitive.

Berlin Plane Is Again In Flight

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 9.—Apparently lost for 48 hours the Chicago-to-Berlin plane "Unruh" Bowler today hopped off from an unknown place somewhere between Great Whale on the lower tip of Hudson's Bay for Cape Chidley and Port. Bowler, according to a relayed radio message from the flyers received here today.
Pilot Parker said "All Okay" but did not state the reason for the long delay. It was pointed out the flyers would have to pass through terrible rain and wind storms and it is believed they waited two days until the disturbance cleared.

Decide Against Big Legion Picnic

(International News Service)

At a meeting held in the Castleton last evening, representatives from Mercer, Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties, decided against holding a big four-county picnic.
The matter was discussed at considerable length, but due to the lateness in getting started, it was decided not to hold such an event this year.
In all probability, plans will be started for a big event next summer, and the committees will be named early in the spring so they can start to work on the project at an early date.

Profit-Taking Affects Market

Speculative Selling Also Carries Stock Prices Down
Some

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 9.—Industrial and railroad stocks were carried moderately downward today on a wave of profit-taking and speculative selling which had its origin principally in the tight money market, uneasiness of professional traders over market conditions generally and the excessive heat, which is driving thousands of stock traders away from Wall Street and other financial centers.

Most of the selling orders, which piled up in the market in the forenoon, found sentiment buying demand to buy up prices to the best levels of the week, but when the professional traders started to hammer the market which have been making gains steadily in the last ten days, the demand gave way gradually, generally, to speculative selling. Wall Street was flooded with rumors of a possible picking up of call money to 10 per cent or 12, with a corresponding tightening up of rates for time money.

The Bears trained the heavy guns on money stock and specialties in the early afternoon. General Motors slipped back from 76 1/4 to 75 3/4. Chrysler lost about 2 points at 74 and Nash 2 to 87 1/2. Radio lost about 3 points at 82. Columbia Graphophone gave up 3 points falling off to 70 1/2.
U. S. Steel, which sold above 200 in the forenoon, fell to 199 1/2.

Though trading was brisk in the afternoon, it was not enough to overcome the selling pressure. The market closed lower than it opened.
The price of gold was 133 1/2.
The price of silver was 61 1/2.
The price of copper was 15 1/2.
The price of tin was 110 1/2.
The price of lead was 10 1/2.
The price of zinc was 18 1/2.
The price of nickel was 100 1/2.
The price of cobalt was 100 1/2.
The price of manganese was 100 1/2.
The price of iron was 100 1/2.
The price of steel was 100 1/2.

The Way OF THE World

MONEY AND A BIG IDEA
What a power millions in money can become in the hands of a man with ideas and imagination! L. L. Valentine, Chicago, rich man, will spend his money and much of his life in building and directing boys' clubs in the poorer districts of Chicago. By making them healthy, teaching them trades, and giving them training in the right way of living, Mr. Valentine will vastly influence thousands of lives. He expects eventually to spend eight million dollars and serve 50,000 boys. It is doubtful if there is any other undertaking in which is destined to have a greater effect in cutting the amount of crime in a large city.

PUBLIC SERVANTS
If men and women do not want to be public servants they ought not to run for office. The trouble with too many office holders is they think of themselves, after election, as being in private business. Men and women in public office are there for the purpose of transacting, not their own business. That business ought to be transacted in open meetings where all who desire may see and hear. Since all the public can not be present, it becomes necessary to the public information as to what the public servants are doing. Any public servant who resents this or who fails to help the newspaper in such information is not qualified to hold office.

It seems to take faster thinking than most drivers are capable of realizing they've seen a railroad crossing danger sign and slow down before they reach the rails.

Hawaiian Flyer In Dynamite Landing

(International News Service) HONOLULU, July 9.—Workmen at the Lewis airport, this city, found it necessary to use dynamite for leveling off the runway. Between blasts as a matter of personal precaution, they placed the dynamite in the center of the landing field.

Water Cushman, instructor at the airport, was aloft with one of his pupils. After a half hour's instruction he proceeded to land. Blissfully unaware of any dynamite in his path he came down directly on top of the whole box, his left wheel scattering sticks in all directions. None exploded.

Cushman, realizing what he had dropped into, did not complete the landing but "gave 'er the gun" and soared aloft, biding his time there until the workmen had collected and safely stored in a new location the 30 sticks which he had strewn over the landscape.

Runs One Train Over 167,000 Miles

Engineer On 50-Mile Road In Arkansas 47 Years in Service

CLARENDON, Ark., July 9.—J. M. "Uncle Bud" Smith of Clarendon has issued a challenge to every railroad man in America to equal his 47 years of service with one 50-mile road.

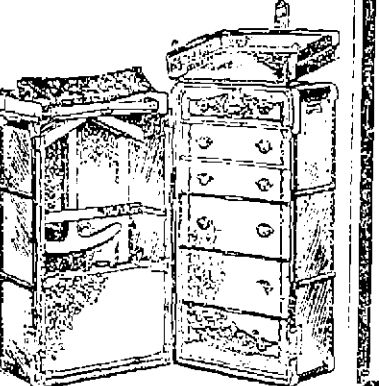

While in a mood for statistics "Uncle Bud" recently figured he had run his engine more than 167,000 miles over the 50-mile line from Helena to Clarendon.

He began his employ with the road as a fireman at the age of 21 and three years later was made an engineer. He has worked a total of 17,350 days for the road. He estimates he has used enough steam in blowing the train around the world.

The road was known as the Arkansas Central when he began working for it. Later it was changed to the Arkansas Midland, and is now a part of the Missouri Pacific system.

Protest Tariff Bill Features

May Assume Large Proportions Before Senate Committee

By WILLIAM S. NEAL International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Protests by 23 foreign nations against the Hawley tariff bill written by the house today promised to assume large proportions in the senate's revision of the measure as senate subcommittees prepared to close their direct testimony upon the widespread demands of manufacturers for new high rates.

Although the notes delivered to this government and sent to the senate finance committee have not been officially made public by Senator Smoot, (R., Utah, chairman, the contents of many have become known. The protests are declared to be the most emphatic ever delivered against an American tariff bill.

With American foreign trade expanding and Europe struggling to recover her pre-war place in the business sun, the demands of industry, backed in many instances by farm organizations, for "embargo tariffs" has aroused a high pitch of resentment in many foreign nations.

The latest note, delivered by the Italian ambassador, attacks the house increase in the tariff on rayon. The senate rayon subcommittee now is hearing rayon manufacturers' appeal for an increase even in the house rates in many instances, because of the alleged threat of foreign competition.

The Italian note declared that rayon imports had decreased from 19,000,000 to 16,000,000 pounds from 1927 to 1928, indicating the dominance of American rayon manufacturers. The latter, however, assert that foreign importations now are increasing more than a million pounds a month.

"While American labor receives higher wages, seemingly an advantage to the Italian manufacturers, this is greatly discounted by the fact that labor in Italy is much less efficient because it lacks adequate machinery," said the note of Ambassador De Martino.

The Greek minister, Charalampas Sinopalous, declared in a note that the new tariff policy threatens to disrupt American foreign trade with Greece.

"It is evident that as long as high taxation continually excludes foreign merchants from the American markets, foreign countries will either not be able to buy American goods or they will be compelled to borrow from America in order to pay for the value of those goods," he said.

The Spanish government, it was learned, has threatened to abrogate the commercial treaty with America, if the Hawley bill is accepted.

The Netherlands government declared that "trade relations are even more important to the American farms and factories as is clearly shown by the fact that the imports for consumption from the United States into the Netherlands are nearly four times as high as the domestic imports from the Netherlands to the United States."

The French government in its note, said:

"The constant increase of American imports into France and the decrease of French sales to the United States justifies discontent among our commercial classes, the manifestations of which are becoming more and more lively."

Representatives of the automobile industry are expected to appear here Thursday in response to senatorial suggestions that the 25 per cent tariff on automobiles might be wiped out. Some manufacturers are said to hold that America can control the world automobile market without a tariff. Reduction of the automobile tariff is regarded as a possibility to remove threats of retaliation by foreign nations against other manufacturers.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Circulation Of Books Decreases At Ward Library

Circulation Now About 400; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

The circulation of books at the branch library in the seventh ward is now about half of what it was during the winter months.

During the winter months the circulation for each week averaged around nine hundred to a thousand books a week. Now since summer is here the circulation is less than half. The past few weeks the average has dropped to about four hundred books a week.

The branch is open two days each week the circulation for each day is about two hundred. Even this is very much better than former years. Previously to last September the seventh ward branch was located in the Mahoning school building and was open only one day each week. The circulation then during the summer was only about fifty books each day the branch was open to the public.

Harbor Revival Services Start

Large Crowd Attends Opening Service In Tent Monday Night

A large assembly of people attended the opening of the Harbor revival services Monday evening. These services are being held in the big tent on the Youngstown road, intersection of the Harbor road.

The tent is spacious and is erected in a splendid location and the seating arrangement is especially comfortable. The weather was ideal for the gathering.

Rev. W. H. Armstrong pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church, on Lyndal street delivered an interesting and inspiring sermon. His theme for the evening was based on spiritual rebirth.

In the beginning of his address he explained that Rev. Wade Patrick who was expected to arrive Monday and take charge of the meeting was unavoidably detained at Shippington where he has been conducting services. He will however arrive Thursday of this week.

Preceding Rev. Armstrong's sermon was the opening prayer by Mrs. Mary McLeister. Following this were three song selections by the congregation. Miss Margaret Owey of the People's Mission was the accompanist at the piano.

Prayers were made by Robert Gorst and George Orr and a special number was sung by a trio composed of Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Sheaffer and Mr. Carey.

These revival meetings will be held at the same location every evening until August 4.

Trains, Autos Are Death To 200 Deer

HARRISBURG, July 9.—Almost two hundred deer have been killed by automobiles and trains since January 1, according to records of the Board of Game Commissioners.

Officers of the board today asked motorists to drive carefully in the sections where deer are abundant not only as a game conservation measure but as a matter of self protection. In a number of the instances reported to the board motorists have been injured by deer which had been hit by automobiles.

What is considered one of the strangest incidents reported to the board was the recent killing of six deer by Lehigh Valley Railroad trains near White Haven. Investigation by the resident game protector revealed that the deer had been attracted to the railroad tracks by salt which had leaked from a passing box car.

Claims Record Newsboy Career

"Shorty" Wilson Of Mobile, Alabama, Has Been At It 33 Years

MOBILE, Ala., July 9.—Charles "Shorty" Wilson, 42, claims his continuous service as a newsboy for 33 years as a record in his "profession."

Wilson, whose home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., sold papers at the Jersey City ferry landing when Sharkey had his "rings knocked in" during the Sharkey-Corbett bout.

He sold newspapers in front of Madison Square Garden when Stanford White was killed by Harry K. Thaw. He sold newspapers in Washington when McKinley was assassinated.

He has sold the news of every important event for the past third of a century and expects to continue as much longer. His cry of "Hey! Hey! Got it all!" has been heard in almost every large city on the continent.

Just at present "Shorty" has a prominent street corner in Mobile and is selling the Mobile Press.

Stresses Value Of Camps For Children

HARRISBURG, July 9.—The advisability of camp life to build up the physical condition of the school child during the vacation period can not be over-estimated, according to a statement made today by Dr. J. Bruce McCrory, Deputy Secretary of Health and Chief of the Bureau of Child Health.

"With the number of organized camps now in existence in Pennsylvania including the boy and girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., as well as those sponsored by church organizations, it is now fortunately possible for many thousands of Pennsylvania's younger people to receive this type of health-building benefit. Parents will confer a real benefit upon their young people if they can arrange a vacation of this type for them. Be sure, however, in choosing a camp for the child that it is under responsible leadership and that matters of sanitation, hygiene and arrangements for safe water and milk supplies have been provided."

Many a man accumulates wealth by the time he needs to spend it all in order to keep from dying of the indigestion or gout. — The Charlotte (N. C.) News.

We commonly say of a prodigal man that he is no man's foe but his own.—Bishop John Kinz.

Make Inspection Of Public Camps

HARRISBURG, July 9.—The annual sanitary survey in public camp inspection work is now being conducted by the bureau of engineering of the State Health Department, according to a report submitted today to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health. This investigation includes population centers in the second class townships where there are no local boards of health. All nuisances in such localities will be abated.

The report also stated that special attention is this season being paid to the facilities connected with automobile tourist camps and wayside eating places. There is every indication from the investigation so far completed, that the motorist public is becoming educated to the better type camp and stand. The result is that the unsanitary establishment is fast losing ground and being forced out of business.

POLICE ARE ORDERED TO CLEAN-UP OR QUIT

YOUNGSTOWN, July 9.—An ultimatum was issued Monday by Mayor Joseph L. Hoffman to Police Chief James J. McElroy and Assistant Chief William J. Buehler, in charge of the vice squad, that if they do not "clean house" and weed out inefficient, non-cooperating members of the police department, they themselves would be ousted.

The ultimatum was issued at a conference in Mayor Hoffman's office attended by Mr. Hoffman, Engrhardt, and Captains Frank Roberts, Richard Ward and Donald Thompson.

Mayor Hoffman also threatened to revoke all vacations and days off granted policemen unless they show better cooperation, and a spirit to obey orders issued by their superior officers.

The men were called on the carpet after an investigation conducted by two U. S. under cover agents, which resulted in the suspension of Officers Andrew Prochowski and R. R. Bevelly, alleged to have been caught red-handed stealing liquor from the police storage room.

In case it is necessary to appoint a new police chief, Mayor Hoffman told the officers, "I do not believe that I could consider Captains Roberts and Thompson because of the laxity in the department. And Captain Ward, who I believe would make a good chief, is only acting as captain."

Denial was made by Captain Roberts that 15 gallons of liquor was stolen from the police storage room last Friday night, while the federal men were making their investigation.

He declared that the liquor was still at police station, but that it was thought stolen when the labels came off the cans.

Valentino's Nephew Arrives On Visit

NEW YORK, July 9.—Jean Valentino, nephew of the late Rudolph Valentino, arrived Monday on the liner Vulcania, traveling to Hollywood on a pilgrimage to the tomb of his uncle.

The boy bears a slight resemblance to the dead actor, but says he has no stage or screen ambitions. He is studying to become an electrical engineer. On shipboard young Valentino was in care of Tito Schipa, tenor of the Chicago Opera company, but he will travel alone to California. Schipa, however, also intends to go to the coast to visit his wife and their new-born baby, Liano, at Los Angeles.

Women Lawyers Are More Able To Detect Lying By Witnesses

Business And Professional Women Attempt To Prove It Pays Women To Advertise

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 9.—The "modest shrinking violet role" was relegated to the dust bin of business and puffed sleeves at the opening sessions of the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women here today.

Feminine leaders who appeared before round tables discussions of the federation today sought to drive home the idea that it pays a woman to advertise herself.

More than this, the superiority of women attorneys over those of the opposite sex was extolled. When a witness is "lying like a sheep thief," when one's theory of a case is suddenly snatched away, then is when the woman attorney shows her resourcefulness, according to Mrs. Bernice M. Harrison, an Angola, Ind., attorney.

Severed Head Is Found In Quarry

Chester County Police Confronted With Murder Mystery Following Gristome Find

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., July 9.—Chester county authorities today were attempting to identify the head of a man found in a quarry hole near here. The head, apparently that of a man about 45 years old and partly bald, had been severed by either a knife or razor about two weeks ago. The spot where the head was found is not far from a shack where police say a number of racketeers who figured in the Philadelphia grand jury crime process had a lair and the police were investigating to determine whether the man was the victim of a gang murder. The rest of the body could not be located despite a search of the surrounding country.

Old Butler "Plank Road" To Be Widened

BUTLER, Pa., July 9.—Engineer T. C. Frame of the state highway department, with headquarters here, announced Monday through a statement made to Mayor Bob Wick of Butler that route No. 8, known as the William Flinn highway, the old "Plank road," would be widened and repaved as soon as the Perry highway was completed for traffic.

Frame says that the plank road will be straightened in a number of places and widened where needed to take care of the increasing traffic between Butler and Pittsburgh. Much money is being spent on temporary repairs on the highway.

Old Paper Gives New Castle Man's Recollections Of Lake Erie Victory Of Commodore Perry

Interesting, educational and vivid is the story of New Castle's survivor of the battle of Lake Erie, which was printed 54 years ago in an old New Castle paper.

The story concerns Richard M. Johnston, of New Castle, who engaged in the battle and incidents pertaining to the battle, as well as to the side closest to New Castle, men is given in the following article.

Mrs. Hannah Shaffer Evans of 315 West Madison avenue is the owner of the clipping and is a niece of the Richard Johnston mentioned in the story.

Interesting to note also is that a son of Jacob Harlan, from which Harlanburg derived its name, was engaged in this battle and was killed.

The story of the battle as printed back in 1875 follows:

PERRY'S VICTORY

A New Castle Survivor

Some weeks since an article was published in this paper, copied from an exchange, stating that but one person engaged in the battle with Commodore Perry, now survived. We have since learned that this is an error. Mr. Richard M. Johnston, a boy who went from New Castle, and who participated and was wounded in that great battle, is still living at the age of 82 years, at South Bloomingville, Hocking county, Ohio.

Richard M. Johnston is a brother of Mr. James Johnston, now one of our old and respected citizens. He was born in Shenango township, Mercer, (now Lawrence) county, December 1793. At the time of the war of 1812 he was an apprentice to Isaac Jones, in New Castle, learning the hatter business. In those days, and long since, every town had its hatter shop as well as its blacksmith shop, and the twang of the little sticks used in what was called "cutting" was as regularly heard as the ring of the anvil. Our old friend, Joseph Justice, still an honored citizen of New Castle, learned his trade with the same man.

While Johnston was yet in his apprenticeship, a draft was ordered for three months men, and the boss hatter, Mr. Isaac Jones, was drafted. Richard Johnston volunteered to go in the boss's place, and went. After arriving at Erie he, with a number of others, enlisted, as they understood it, for a cruise on the lake of 25 hours. On their return Richard was informed that he had enlisted for the war, which he denied. He was held in spite of his protestations, and remained in the service over a year, in the ship Lawrence, before Perry's great battle.

The following account of the battle is substantially as taken from the lips of Richard M. Johnston: On the memorable tenth of September, the British fleet hove in sight. Perry took his glass and viewing the fleet, told his men they could calculate on hard work. With him it was conquer or die, as, being a deserter from the British, if captured he would suffer an ignominious death. The British had guns which carried two miles, while none of Perry's had such range. The consequence was that the Lawrence was submitted to a destructive fire before she could answer. To keep his men up, Perry knocked the head out of a barrel of rum and gave them all a drink, telling them to sit down and wait till the enemy came in reach of their guns. One man was killed and two wounded before a shot was fired from the Lawrence. When the enemy came in range the order was given to fire, and the men went at it with a will. By the side of Johnston was a young man named Harlan, son of the Mr. Harlan from whom the village of Harlanburg derives its name. Not long after the battle commenced a ball from the British ship took off young Harlan's head, clean from his body, so that the head fell one way and the body the other on the deck. Another cut the vest and shirt off Johnston, just drawing blood across his stomach. Bird, who was afterward shot for desertion, was wounded and ordered by Perry to go below; but he refused and stood at his post, declaring he would not leave the deck till death or victory called him. He stayed till the battle was over. When the vessels were so close together that they could see the men on the British ship arranging their boarding pikes, preparatory to boarding the Lawrence, which was now so disabled that she was almost lying on her side, Perry ordered Johnston to haul down the colors, which was done. Perry and two sailors jumped into a boat and rowed to Elliott, who was lying back under the pretense that the wind was unfavorable. The grape shot fell around that boat like hail, but the intrepid men pulled as for their lives. A shot struck the boat and made a hole in it, and Perry immediately took off the sailor coat he wore and stopped the leak. They reached the vessel commanded by Elliott in safety and brought it into the engagement, and after firing two or three rounds the British hauled down their colors and the fight ended.

One of the British schooners made for the Canada shore, but was followed, and when captured found to be manned entirely by Indians. They were a cowardly set, and lay down on their faces on the deck and were picked around by the sailors, offering no resistance. Johnston says he does not know what became of them; but not one of them, to his knowledge, ever came to shore.

Richard M. Johnston was a great friend of Bird and could not speak of him without shedding tears. He says Bird was as gallant and brave a man as ever went into battle. After the victory his bravery procured him a furlough and he went to visit his affianced, who lived in Butler county. He oversaw his time, but was on his way back when he was captured at Portersville and brought through

New Castle to Erie, and afterward shot as a deserter. Johnston describes him as a handsome young man, of great courage and devotion to his country, and says that if Perry had been there he never would have been shot.

After the battle only eight men of the crew of the Lawrence remained who were not either killed or wounded.

Johnston, finding if he stayed he would have to go south, and feeling that he had served out far more than the time he really engaged for, took the advice of his friend, Nat McElvey, the father of John McElvey, of this city, who was then a young unmarried man in Erie, and came home to New Castle. Here he was arrested and taken to the Mercer county jail as a deserter. His father and Philip Painter took the family record and proved that he was under age at the time of enlistment, and he was discharged. He then traveled as a journeyman hatter for some time, once returning with his wife and starting a hat shop at what is called Pumpkintown, where his wife and child died, and he again started as a roving journeyman hatter. He is now living at Bloomingville, Hocking county, Ohio. He has three times married and raised three sons by his third wife, two of whom lost their lives in the war of the rebellion. He never had a pension, because he never had a regular discharge. He is 82 years old, sound Republican and a Master Mason. He is now in feeble health, and poor.

No Funeral In Any Church For Slain Gangster

Religion Spurned By Gangster In Life Spurns Him In Death

(International News Service) EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 9.—The religion that Joseph Tricoli slain gangster, spurned in life spurned him in death Monday.

Four churches, three of them Catholic and one Protestant, refused to allow funeral services for the dead underworld denizen to be held within their walls.

It had been planned to hold services for Tricoli at St. Joseph's church and shortly before noon several hundred mourners assembled at his home for a solemn march upon the house of worship. As the cortege, headed by a hearse carrying Tricoli's body in a plain board coffin, neared the edifice, however, it found the doors locked.

The cortege then moved on two other Catholic churches and a Protestant institution, but was waved away at each place.

After failing to gain admission to any of the churches, the funeral procession moved to the Holy Cross cemetery in Arlington, N. J., where interment took place without benefit of services.

Tricoli's body, riddled by bullets, was found on a lonely road outside this city on July 4.

I Can Truthfully Recommend Thompson's Barosma, Kidney And Liver Compound As A Fine Medicine.

I can truthfully recommend your Barosma as a fine medicine and a cure for all you claim for it. I am almost entirely free from rheumatism and my general health is greatly improved. My wife, Mrs. M. B. and I are all well.

All druggists sell Thompson's Barosma for $1.00 a bottle and the day for day's use. It is the best medicine I have ever used. Stop backache, rheumatism, and all kinds of trouble without a moment's delay.

If you are a man, boy and run down, be sure your kidneys are working and you should use Barosma. Hundreds of people who claim every day that they feel better simply because they didn't take the famous Barosma.

Druggists, special dealers in the city and that district are all over the pretty little state of Ohio. Get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and put your kidneys in a better condition in a few days.

If you are troubled with constipation always take a Barosma. (23c and 50c) along with Barosma.

The Story Of The World War
58—Changing Methods Of Warfare

THE RESORT TO TRENCH WARFARE NECESSITATED SWEEPING CHANGES IN THE ANTIQUATED METHODS OF ATTACK THAT PREVAILED AT THE OUTSET OF THE WORLD WAR. IN 1914, DENSE MASSES OF INFANTRYMEN, CLAD IN UNIFORMS THAT MADE THEM ALL THE MORE CONSPICUOUS, ADVANCED ACROSS OPEN FIELDS TOWARDS THE ENEMY. FLAGS FLAPPED DEFIANTLY, AND, FREQUENTLY, MARTIAL MUSIC CHEERED THE CHARGE.

IT WAS NOT LONG BEFORE IT CAME TO BE SEEN THAT THIS FORM OF PACKED, HEADLONG NOISY ASSAULT, LONG CELEBRATED BY POETS AND PAINTERS, AMOUNTED TO SUICIDE. A COLORFUL MASS OF MEN WAS TOO EASY A TARGET FOR A MACHINE GUN THAT SPAT A THOUSAND BULLETS A MINUTE. BRIGHT UNIFORMS AND MASSES FORMATIONS WENT INTO THE DISCARD. MANY OTHER CHANCES WERE DEMANDED.

THE EXTENSIVE USE OF BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS, TOGETHER WITH THE CONSTANT OBSERVATION FROM AIRPLANES, MADE IT EXTREMELY DIFFICULT FOR EITHER SIDE TO MAKE A SURPRISE ASSAULT UPON THE OTHER, AND CALLED FOR NEW METHODS OF ATTACK. INFANTRYMEN WERE SUPPLIED WITH WIRE CUTTERS TO CLEAR A WAY THROUGH THEIR OWN WIRE WHILE THEIR ARTILLERY SOUGHT TO BATTER DOWN THE ENEMY'S ENTANGLEMENTS.

CAVALRY, WHICH HAD PLAYED AN IMPORTANT PART IN THE OPEN FIGHTING DURING THE EARLY DAYS OF THE WAR, PROVED INEFFECTIVE OVER SHELL-TORN, WIRE-STREWN FIELDS AGAINST INTRENCHED POSITIONS, AND CAME TO BE USED FOR OTHER DUTIES BEHIND THE LINES. HOWEVER, IT WAS HELD IN READINESS IN CASE THE ENEMY WAS DRIVEN INTO THE OPEN.

TOMORROW SOME INTERESTING PHASES OF TRENCH FIGHTING.

CARLSON FINISHES FIRST FULL GAME

NEW YORK, July 9.—Burleigh Grimes impresses with age. Yesterday the veteran spitballer twirled the Yankees to a win over Brooklyn, thereby scoring his 14th win of the season and his 21st since arriving in the majors. While Burleigh was winning, Johnny Morrison was losing to break his string of six straight. The win kept the Yankees on top of the national league.

Chicago and New York kept pace with the Blues by whipping the Braves and Reds. Carlson pitching his first full game of the year for the Cubs allowed but five hits.

Larry Benton brought sunshine into the already bright Giant camp by his great hurling against the Reds. Jake Hendrick's boys could get but three hits off Larry with no runs and only seven men reached first base.

None reached second save Dressen, and Benton allowed him to wander along the path unmolested.

Optimistic kid. Today's medal for optimism is awarded Rockie Haveland McKean, who took the mound with the intention of flattening the White Sox to a third straight win over the Athletics. Young Harold had no one to oppose save "Lettie" Greer. But he was not at all. For seven and one-half innings he matched heads with Moses without losing prestige, but in the eighth the Mackam jumped on him for six runs and a ball game. It was Greer's 14th victory of the year.

The Yankees with one eye on the scoreboard kept pace by triumphing the Browns 10 to 3. George Piparis allowed but four hits and was aided by Lou Gehrig's 22nd circuit smash.

Several Baseball Heads Are Doomed

Southworth, Blackburne, Hendricks, Johnson May Lose Berths

DAN HOWLEY MAY GO TO SENATORS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor, International News Service
NEW YORK, July 9.—Having with in the last three years excommunicated one manager who won a world's championship, another who furnished the runner-up in the league race and a third who was utterly unable to do better than win the pennant, it might be interesting to know what Mr. Sam Breadon, of St. Louis, intends to do about Bill Southworth, who today has managed the Cardinals right down to the 500 mark. This is the most unimpressive relationship the Cards have attained in July since 1924 and, seeing that they have shown neither out of twenty-one ball games in the last three weeks, maybe I won't be misunderstood if I mention the fact that Southworth doesn't appear to be an unparalleled success.

Killer May Advance
There have been all manner of rumors this year about managers who are about to be beheaded. They say Russell Blackburne is breathing his last in Chicago and that old Jackie Aiz from the Texas League will take over the White Sox in 1930. Out in Cincinnati, the directorate has asked the mugs to bear with Mr. Hendricks until the end of the year, at which time it promises to deal with him in a manner befitting his shame.

Bobbie either is or isn't to go in Brooklyn. Maraville may be sent in with the Braves and Dan Howley, having made faces at Phil Ball, is said to be destined for Washington, where Walter Johnson is expected to retire at the termination of his one-year contract. Bill Killifer is supposed to get Howley's job, the idea being that Mr. Ball doesn't like the faces Howley is making, which is fair enough. It is understood that Howley wasn't altogether sure whether he liked Mr. Ball's even before the face-making began.

Anyhow, in all the clamor, there hasn't been so much as a syllable to indicate whether or not Mr. Breadon's intentions toward Mr. Southworth are strictly kosher. However, with the Cardinals in fourth place and maybe lower, it is assumed that William's job is safe. If only he could finish a game, fighting fifth, in fact, he might even get a bonus.

He doesn't deserve to be tossed out overnight, at that, for bawling Gellert, they didn't give him a club that was meant to go on forever. Pitchers like Alexander, Sherdel and Haines had won for Hornsby and McKechnie in 1926 and 1928 respectively and had kept the club up there for Farrell in 1927. They were due to bow down under the burden of increasing years this season. And they did.

The town, too, walked out on the club, for some reason or none at all, even when it was leading the league. I don't think this helped the outfit in a big way. Perhaps its discouragement in the face of this condition set in about the time that time began holding the stop watch on a club that had run the good race and was now out of breath. Anyhow, the Cards were leading the league on June 15 with a record of 34 won and 19 lost. Today, they have won and lost 37 and the end apparently is not yet.

The fun began on June 16 when they dropped a double header to the Braves but they beat the Cubs the following day and held the lead until June 19 when they blew a pair to Chicago and fell all the way to third place. They have won only two games since that day.

Maybe the slump was coming to the Cards, for really they didn't belong up there and baseball has an arbitrary way of rectifying mistakes like this. As a matter of fact, the Cards never would have been up at the pace in the first place without the aid of the Cincinnati Reds, from whom they have won fourteen out of seventeen to date. For the other western contenders the Cubs and Pirates, beat them eleven times each and the Giants have won four of the six played with the Cards, giving the latter a misfit average of .235 against its arch-rivals.

It wasn't until recently, however, that the truth about the Cardinals was revealed in all its disquieting aspects. They have begun to lose to the Phillies.

Energy Declared Pennant Winner

West Pittsburg Admitted To The City-County League Last Night

At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting of the managers and other representatives of the teams in the City-County Baseball League held last night in Danceland Hall, Energy was declared the winner of the pennant for the first half of the season's schedule.

The official record of the winning team for the first half was declared thirteen victories and three defeats, giving that team a percentage for the first half of .723.

It was announced that both Harlanburg and Princeton had dropped out of the league and that most of their players were with out releases, which barred them from signing up and playing with any other team of the league.

After considerable discussion, the league declared that these teams had forfeited their franchises and also declared that all players of these teams, who were without releases, would be free agents and permitted to sign up with other teams.

Action was also taken permitting the teams of the league to sign up new players with the requirement that all contracts be returned to Secretary Roberts by August 1.

West Pittsburg was granted a franchise and this will make a six team league. It was announced that the teams now in the league are West Pittsburg, Boro A. C., Energy, Danceland, Cascade A. C. and National Radiator Colored Stars.

A committee was named to rearrange the schedule for the second half of the season, this being necessary owing to the changes in the league teams. Edward Pritchard, president of the league, presided at its session last night.

It was decided to hold another business session at the same place on Monday evening of next week. At this time it is anticipated that everything will be in readiness for the opening of the second half of the season's schedule at the meeting called for next Monday evening.

Radiators To Play Independent Games

National Radiator Colored Stars will play independent games for the remainder of the season as several of their players have left town. Gentennial field will be the home ground. The Stars will meet Farrell Grays next Monday in a twilight game. County teams should call 6009 and ask for Bradley.

Why Not Arrange Big Aquatic Meet?

There's plenty of water, the weather is fine and the county of Lawrence has some excellent "human fish." While many of the Flying Squadron are on instructive jobs it might be able to arrange a good swimming meet for Cascade pool.

Big Racing Personality

By QUIN HALL
Years ago a little fellow named Matt Winn perched in a tree outside Churchill Downs at Louisville, Ky., and from that vantage point witnessed his first Kentucky Derby.

Every year now great hordes of youngsters crash the gates on the far side of the field and pour across the landscape just before the running of the historic turf classic. It has grown to be almost as much a part of Derby Day as the race itself. Mounted police make a feeble effort to stem the tide, but they do not seem to go at their task in a whole-hearted manner. There may be a reason.

Col. Matt Winn, the youngster who viewed his first Derby from the limb of a tree, is now the "big shot" at Churchill Downs, just as he is the guiding genius back of the activities at Washington Park and Hawthorne, in Chicago; Lexington; Latonia, just outside Cincinnati; and Fairmount at St. Louis.

From a youngster who saw his first Derby from over the outside fence, Winn has developed into a big racing figure in the Middle West—and we are not referring to his poundage when we say big.

Col. Winn has been connected with racing in the Middle West now for a long time. However, it has been said of him that none of the plants with which he is connected will ever be fully completed. The colonies is a builder, Churchill Downs and Hawthorne and his other tracks may seem to be as nearly complete as is necessary to the casual observer, but to Col. Winn there is always something which can be done in the way of improvement. When the housing of the customer is well taken care of, there is always the stables which need this or that, and the planting of flowers and shrubbery in the centers of the courses.

Washington Park, outside Chicago, is vastly improved this year over last. The Colonel has also built up an organization which is highly efficient in handling the business at the various tracks.

Without his racing activities, Winn would be lost. Without him, racing in the Middle West might not be entirely lost—but it is vastly better with the Colonel in the pilot house.

Seeking Good Opponent For Henry Firpo

Jack McKenna, the chap who killed Henry Firpo with a right for a count of nine and otherwise made pugilistic life rather miserable for the elegant, bald-plate Louisvillian will not oppose Mr. Firpo as planned next Monday night.

He so spoke in a telegram declaring that one of Firpo's lefts to the face had inflicted a cut which had not yet healed and he doesn't wish to gally with Firpo until the lip is in shape. As a result it is up to Mr. Bill Jolly to secure another opponent.

Frankie Schoell refused to box Firpo, Monday night.

Henry Goldberg, another up-and-at-'em middleweight reported a rash above an eye and likewise turned down the proposal—something which causes a keen suspicion that this Firpo chap is beginning to take on color and the boys are ducking from his path.

The case of Firpo is something unique. He is not yet a First Rank performer but he is a few inches better than the boys in his class. Everytime he starts a win, either by a knockout or a decision. As a result his fame is spreading rapidly.

Scarey To Fight
Harold Scarey, Niles, one of the younger generation and one whom it might be recalled was forced too fast for his own good will appear against Russell Haymaker in the next semi-final at the bowl.

Walter Pickard, the blonde Irish-German who battled Frank Munroe will tackle the husky but phlegmatic Nick Martin and a battle of "sock" will be the fans reward. Pickard is tough and has an ugly right hand. Nick isn't slow to pass an opponent's jaw, either.

When the bell rings there will be a quartet of smaller fellows to start the fans raving and it looks as though next Monday's preliminaries will be the berries for action. The main bout has not been definitely arranged.

Crisp At Butler
U. S. Carpenter and Harry Crisp will go to it at Butler tonight. Crisp is a nice boxer and a good puncher. It will be his second appearance in this section and if Carpenter doesn't watch his P's and Q's, Harry may land a left hook on his chin.

Young Sapienza, the bantamweight of Zellenopole who boxed Tony Icone a terrific four rounder a week or more ago has trotted under the pugilistic banner of Joe Cumo. Icone believes he can knock the spuds of Sapienza in a second bout. He may get the chance he wants.

Pitcher's "Pep" And Voice Makes Hit With Fandom

By JACK A. BRADBURY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—A baseball player does not necessarily have to have unusual playing ability to become a popular idol with fans of the "great national sport." This is proven in the person of "Pea Ridge" Day, member of the hurling staff of the Kansas City Blues baseball club of the American Association.

"Pea Ridge" Day is one of the most popular players in the circuit and his pitching, but because of his ability to yell and yell loud.

Don't get the idea that Day can't pitch, because he can.

Hog Calling Voice.
He has won games for the Blues and will continue to chalk up victories but the voice he cultivated to such a fine point by calling hogs down in Arkansas has caused baseball fans in this section to flock to parks where the Blues are playing for an opportunity of seeing, or rather hearing, "Pea Ridge."

Managers of different ball clubs in the American Association circuit, players and even hard-boiled umpires, who are supposed to be accustomed to "razing" have complained to the president of the "loop" about the sounds that come forth from the mouth of the Arkansas youth with all the force of a volcano in action.

Hard To Curb.
Officials of the association circuit couldn't seem to do much to curb the "hog-calling," so Day continues to "do his stuff."

"Pea Ridge" has rare ability in causing other pitchers to "blow up" and tries his best to do that little thing. He keeps up the noise during the entire game, except when he is pitching and won't let up unless of course one of his victims gets "peevish" and crows him with a "pop bottle."

However, until that time comes, Day continues to yell his way into the hearts of the fans.

Mushball League
PHALANX LOSES 5 TO 6
In one of the best played contests since the city mushball league first opened, the Shenango Tin Mill won from the Phalanx fraternity of the Y. M. C. A. by the count of 6-5 at Colonial field last night.

Well played throughout, the game furnished real action for both teams. For the victors, Parker, Fraser, Shackle, Carson and Jenkins played well while Kerr was the best "hitter" for the Phalanx.

The score by innings:
Tin Mill.....2 0 0 1 2 1 0-6
Phalanx.....1 0 0 2 1 1-5

The batters: Tin Mill, Jenkins and Parker; Phalanx, Bruce and McGrath. Umpire: John A. McGrath.

Tin Mill vs. Post Office at Colonial. Thursday, Firemen vs. Lehigh, at Colonial.

People Rate Your Business By The Appearance of Your Delivery Service

— Does It Look Like a First-Class or Second-Class Business?

NO retail merchant can afford to overlook the appearance of his delivery service. In many cases it is his sole contact with a competitor's customers. Whether it is the first or last contact largely depends upon the favorable or unfavorable impression it creates about his business.

First-class delivery means a first-class business in the public mind.
Second-class, shabby, cheap delivery means a second-class business.
Every successful retail merchant knows this.

High Speed, Long Life, High Powered Trucks That Pay For Themselves In Advertising

Combitment of the tremendous advertising importance of High-Class Delivery Service—Service that looks high-class and that is high-class—Reo, world leader in high speed, long life, high power and low upkeep commercial transportation, offers American Business a new era in the haulage field. An era combining utility, flexibility and almost unbelievable endurance with low upkeep and the great factor of favorable publicity.

Paul McCullough Chased By Detroit

Paul McCullough, New Castle boy with the Washington Senators, only lasted an inning against Detroit yesterday, yielding five hits and as many runs during his brief stay on the mound.

Prior to this game Paul had been showing complete mastery over his opponents, having blanked the Yankees for several innings on two different occasions in a relief role.

He was opposed yesterday by Emil Yde, former Pirate, who, although he yielded 14 hits during the game, held the Nats down to four runs.

Base Ball Feud Is Still Alive

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, N. Y., July 9.—Burleigh Grimes can pitch but he can't hold his temper. This was clearly shown when Manager Robinson of the Robins sent Bulch Henline, an old enemy of Grimes, in to pinch him in the ninth inning.

Grimes proceeded to throw three balls directly at Bulch's head and Bulch drew a base on balls, ducking each one of the bean throws. After that the Robins got two runs.

Evidently Robbie knows his feuds.

MEL MERRITT TO AID AS DARTMOUTH SCOUT

(International News Service)
BOSTON, July 9.—Mel Merritt, former football coach at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., and now connected with a Boston brokerage house will aid Jack Cannell, head coach at Dartmouth college, in the capacity of scout.

Merritt, who has resigned his post because of business matters, was reluctant to absent himself for three months, as he did last year.

However, it was reliably reported here that Merritt would aid Coach Cannell as scout, a position of importance because of the hard schedule arranged for next fall.

TRACK ATHLETES TRAIN OPEN AIR BOUT PLAN

McCreary, of Des Moines, who is 24, defeated L. B. Bud Maytag, Newton, Ia., millionaire.
